Q: Update query to add new column if condition is met I have a table "Address". I need to insert a new column "Employed". The column "Employed" is a boolean. If the Country_id is not null and the Market_id is equal to 0, then "Employed" should be "False" Currently, the code I have is not inserting the column "Employed".

var tsql = "UPDATE Address SET Country_id=@Country_id, Market_id=0, Employed=@Employed WHERE Address_id=@Address_id"; if (Country_id!= null && Market_id == 0) { using (SqlCommand command = conn.CreateCommand()) { command.CommandText = tsql; command.Parameters.AddWithValue("@Country_id", Country_id); command.Parameters.AddWithValue("@Employed", false); command.Parameters.AddWithValue("@Address_id", id); command.ExecuteNonQuery(); } } What am I doing wrong?
```

Thanks! A: Try this

var tsql = "UPDATE Address SET Country_id=@Country_id, Market_id=0, Employed=@Employed WHERE Address_id=@Address_id"; if (Country_id!= null && Market_id == 0) { using (SqlCommand command = conn.CreateCommand()) { command.CommandText = tsql; command.Parameters.AddWithValue("@Country_id", Country_id); command.Parameters.AddWithValue("@Employed", false); command.Parameters.AddWithValue("@Address_id", id); command.ExecuteNonQuery(); } }
```
