"A memo (written by administrators) indicated that the term 'teen fisting' should have been searched for on the CD drive before searching for porn," according to an email from a gay activist to the Human Rights Campaign, a gay rights organization. "The CD drive search could potentially affect the lives of LGBT servicemembers." The incident was only brought to light after the gay activist appealed to the Department of Defense for information about this incident. An April 10, 2013, email to the human rights group OutServe-SLDN described the incident and pointed out that the same Google search engine included gay websites with gay porn in the results.
