Last summer, as I was doing this game:

The controls:

X = Right

D = Down

S = Snap To (and also Grab (hold))

Fire = Select (Pick) Item

I found that I spent quite a bit of time trying to figure out the best, most natural way of controlling this thing. Most games use either the keyboard or the game's mouse, and I wanted to go completely against the grain to make this feel like an entirely new experience.

As it turns out, giving it full mouse was not entirely useful so I just enabled the snap to option (and grab and flick, if you have a four button mouse). The game appears to be about 25% completed, and I found that the following "Gestures" are the easiest to use and make the most sense.

Especially since the camera is tied up with the Walk (and Snap to the game), it doesn't matter which buttons I'm using.

I've put up a video to demonstrate how it works, but basically when you click the mouse, you're walking towards a place that will be processed. If you flick, you stop and look at where you want to go. After you click, the result will be what was selected at the mouse location.
