Effectiveness of an educational video intervention to promote pain management in brain injury rehabilitation. To evaluate the effectiveness of a pain management educational video intervention to improve pain management in individuals with chronic or acute brain injury (BI). Randomized controlled trial. Twenty-two patients admitted to a regional BI inpatient rehabilitation hospital and a smaller local community hospital between January 2009 and January 2010, were randomized into two groups: the intervention group (n = 12), who viewed an educational video on pain management and the control group (n = 10), who received usual care. A treatment satisfaction questionnaire was used to measure satisfaction with pain management. Both patients and health professionals were interviewed to determine their expectations regarding the effectiveness of the pain management educational video, and the treatment satisfaction questionnaire was repeated at one month and six months. The intervention group had significantly higher satisfaction scores in the intervention group at six months compared with baseline (p = 0.011) and the control group at one month and six months (p = 0.002, p = 0.005, respectively). Participants in the intervention group reported that the staff played an important role in making their discharge home from the BI more successful. The pain management educational video intervention was effective and acceptable to participants with BI. Future research is required to replicate this study in a larger population and compare the effectiveness of pain management educational video interventions to usual care to determine the potential for using this intervention as a nursing model in BI rehabilitation.

WallShow [Mac/Win]

WallShow Cracked Accounts is a free customizable, customizable wallpaper for Windows XP (32/64), Vista, and Windows 7. WallShow is a FREE customizable wallpaper software for Windows (XP/Vista/Windows 7). This simple and easy to use wallpaper application has a lot of good and bad points. WallShow does have the custom feature I really like, but even it is a little limited in customization. One feature I did like was the ability to make the wallpaper fit the length and width of the windows perfectly. This is a huge plus. I have windows that span different monitor and they all fit perfectly. I also like the fact that I can just right click any area of the wallpaper and the customize all the settings from there. The only drawback to WallShow is that you can't change the clock type to only show at start or when you are in another program. Key Features include: -Wallpaper Presets (Automatically change the wallpaper for certain date, time, day, month, week, second, minute, hour, year or any other defined preset)-Wallpaper Length and Width Settings-Wallpaper Background Color-Wallpaper Position-Slide In and Slide Out-Timer Pre-Defined Timers/Settings(Mins, Hours, or Seconds)-Wallpaper Size (Normal, Tall, Wide)-Wallpaper Animation-Wallpaper Pictures Folder Browser-Wallpaper File Preview-Compatibility Windows XP/Vista/Windows 7-Version Stable: v2.0.1.8.1 Limitations: There are certain limitations to the application. You are limited to adding wallpaper only in the folder selected in the Pre-Defined wallpaper pictures selection. You are also limited to the picture types listed in the picture's properties. I have not found a way to eliminate the color limitations with Windows 7. Program Steps: WallShow is very simple. All you need to do is choose your picture from the wallpapers you selected and right click on it and choose Edit Wallpaper. Now you are set to go. If you need to customize any of the settings you can do so easily by double clicking the WallShow icon on your task bar. Otherwise, you will see the default settings and time set by the application. It is a very easy program to use and set up. It is also very responsive. You will never have to wait long to see the wallpaper change. There is no option to limit the time or duration of the wallpaper change. The wallpaper only changes when you have the application b7e8fdf5c8

Steve...welcome to the board! I'm a youngish fellow (34) but I think I can still help. Feel free to ask questions. We're a friendly bunch. I wish you the best of luck and good health. ps: Don't worry too much about the posting schedule. There are a few of us on the old forum at present, so things are a bit slow, but that doesn't matter. I usually just post my answer after I get my coffee.

Q: Why is my query slower when I add a LEFT JOIN? My goal is to show how many times a particular document occurred in a particular range. To do this, I use the following query (I get the document ID through another function, but I'm leaving that out because it's irrelevant):

SELECT `x`.`*`, SUM(`y`.`load`) AS `load`, MIN(`z`.`create`) AS `create`
FROM `tbl_x` `x` LEFT JOIN ( SELECT `x`.`id`, ( SELECT (CASE WHEN `x`.`id_gist` = '1' THEN `y`.`load` ELSE 0 END) FROM `tbl_y` AS `y` WHERE `x`.`id` = `y`.`id` ) AS `load`,
MAX(`z`.`create`) AS `create` FROM `tbl_z`
