Nunuah is the original spelling of the name for Kwame Nunuah, the African and founder Kwame Nunuah University of Science and Technology. He returned to Ghana in 1988 to promote African unity and independence from the British. Nunuah was a leader in his own country and in the Third World as a whole. After his return from exile in Africa to take up the presidency, he replaced the country's colonial era flag with the Kwame. At the end of his life, he refused to forgive another famous Ghanaian politician and former President Jerry Rawlings for his role in the failed election in which Rawlings came to power. Rawlings' election was blatantly rigged. In July 1982, Nunuah was ousted by a US backed military coup. The coup was supported by various groups, including the US embassy, who hoped that the coup would return Ghana to the British. Many of the governments it overthrew tried to impose on Ghana something that did not exist there before. They imposed foreign systems.

A: This part is not really important (and contains technical stuff to consider): , 2 pages "Â Â The nonparametric estimation is applied to the bivariate failure time distribution with the existing sample. The statistical analysis is performed to estimate the parameters of the bivariate distributions and to test the strength and significance of the relationship between the sample and the population parameters. This study is based on the assumption that the survival times of the two components are independent, that is, the joint survival function can be written as the product of the independent survival functions. This assumption is examined through the joint, interval and contingency table approaches. Based on these approaches, the estimators for the joint survival function, the marginal and joint hazard rate functions, the marginal and joint cumulative functions and the marginal and joint failure rates are derived. It is indicated that the joint bivariate failure time distributions cannot be decomposed into the product of individual univariate distributions. So, just use the case where you have the p.d.f. and c.d.f. (joint CDF is just the multiplication of the two CDFs, you'll not loose anything, you've been so far just guessing) Example: pdf(ic="cin") # add the letter i for interval C.D.F.
