Q: Graphics.DrawLine just draws single line of a polyline I've got the following structure which shows me a polyline with six segments. I can do some manipulations with the segments, setting the first five to zero. What I need is to do something similar for the last segment. Now I need to do something like this: `Graphics.DrawLine(pen, a, a+3);` In case I store a position of the segment in "a" variable, this means I'll draw a line between a and a+5. Then I set a + 3 to a which is the end position of the same segment I just drew. Unfortunately, the line just isn't drawn. Nothing happens. No exception or error in the Debug, the working part of the page, stops running. What am I doing wrong? I must have simply misunderstood the procedure or did it all wrong, I assume. Thanks in advance. This is the source code: `int numSegments = 6; Point[] pts = new Point[numSegments]; //Passing the points to the constructor //Starting the segment at Point 3,2 pts[0] = new Point(3,2); pts[1] = new Point(3,4); pts[2] = new Point(5,3); pts[3] = new Point(3,2);`
