As for allies, well, you can't expect the loyalty of a sentient carnivorous plant. Over the course of a long and dangerous journey you will come face-to-face with many other sentient threats, all willing to do battle with you in order to survive. But your primary opponents are self-replicating carnivorous plants: the Vexxas. Once they find you, you are their next meal! CombatA variety of weapons that will grow as you grow from inexperienced and incompetent to a ruthless and confident warrior. Over 300,000 combinations of equipment, with both offensive and defensive varieties. Up to 8 different possible combatants. 8 different terrain types. 20 different enemies with as many variants in each. Combat-oriented enemies such as Troops, Gunners and Cannoneers. With over 100 rooms, the map can be fully explored with only 2 lives. To die is permanent loss of the map. Get lost, and you'll just have to start over. There are a variety of tools at your disposal to help you explore and make your way to the exit, including a torch, repair tools, a map, map markers, elevators, exploding bombs, and laser beacons. Besides the mechanics of finding the exit, you'll have to deal with foes along the way. Some will just attack you, while others may disguise themselves as objects and attack you from behind! Victory goes to the most diligent explorer who can discover the exit and escape the map before their lives run out! An easy game for all ages, you can use a controller or the arrow keys to move the ball. Every few levels there is a bonus round for extra lives, and every level you unlock gives you some bonus 'magic points' that will unlock extra game types in the special magic menu.

Tim & Tim's Top 100 PF & DF - WARDAGON_DESTROY3 IN THE CORP: Void IN THE WORLD: I Am Sooo Lucky I am the person that broadcasts shows on iNDir. I am interested in all forms of the Dead State and Deadlocke, I also enjoy the beginning of the World of Warcraft and Elder Scrolls series. My favorite form of the Dead State is the Truckie and truckdrifter, which it why most of my plays will be those going through a truck stop, or jiggering something apart. Although for the most part I am interested in playing Zombie Fallout using a Chaos Warzones as my new campaign, I am open to any Deadstate ideas, rulesets, or campaign system. Current Threads: 1.) Smackdown: I am currently playing a standalone character build, where I play Andrew (the Night Case), a seemingly normal everyman at a local truck stop who gets turned into a zombie. His girlfriend and the waitress, Shelly, discovered this zombie out of nowhere in the back of a truck, and when she realized Andrew was a zombie, she confiscated his keys and ran, right through a squad of PCaVN van ninjas. So, now he has to escape to a kind of far away truck stop and find a community and a new job, that he can currently support her and their unborn baby. 2.) The Great American Truck Pull: This may be a standalone game, or I might be involved in some extended canon as far as the Broken Apocalypse. We are currently planning an adventure on Earth-5 for April 3.) HORRORFEST: The ultimate frights t-shirt contest, based on Ryan Hunter Brock's site, feeling very haunted. The contest will be occurring in the summer of 2013 and possibly earlier. If I am involved with this, it will be either as a commissioner, or part of my villain in the chaos wars. Feel free to contact me if you are interested in being a t-shirt writer. Post-AP We are a couple of the dudes that left The Great Truckville to start playing RPG's. We've been at it for a while now but lately have been adding more and more characters that we have created and are ready to play here on the forums. We really like the zombie-apocalypse setting and just thought it would be
