In a series of 832 patients with clinically documented vasculogenic impotence, symptoms associated with vasculogenic impotence were the most common symptom of impotence (82.3%). In over 90% of these cases, evaluation of patient responses to penile tumescent stimuli confirmed the presence of vasculogenic impotence. In the remainder of the study population, most patients complained of having nocturnal erections; at least half of these patients had a normal response to penile tumescent stimuli. Vaginal examination, electromyography, and endocrine testing were normal in 97, 97, and 100% of the patients, respectively. It is suggested that penile tumescent stimuli should be used to confirm the diagnosis of impotence in patients with nocturnal erections as well as patients with nocturnal or achromosomal erections.NGC 2324 NGC 2324, also occasionally known as NGC 2325 or NGC 2323, is a globular cluster in the constellation Aries.
