The society is built on multidisciplinary teams, providing advances in surgical care, teaching, and scientific discovery. Therefore, it is critical that the society have representation from many different disciplines. With the growing number of Specialty Societies, it is necessary for societies to strive for a more robust participation of their members. Since the formation of the S4 in 1976, over 1000 have been admitted as Fellows. Following their application, Fellows are required to participate in specific educational and administrative activities outlined by the society. Members are expected to self-identify as a member of this Society. The essence of the Society's mission can only be achieved by bringing its members together to meet. All Fellows are expected to meet annually at the Society's Biennial Meeting in order to interact with other Society members and the S4 Executive Committee. Fellows also are expected to participate in at least 3 Clinical Spinal Research Workshops during the year with other members of the S4. Current members
